

CSD COVID-19 Training Protocol

v.2020.10.15

CSD COVID-19 Training Protocol

Centre for Safety and Development (CSD) has the facilities and capabilities to ensure a safe learning environment in accordance with the latest COVID-19 regulations.

This safe learning environment, allows us to commit to all our learning goals. CSD does not compromise regarding the learning goals, simulations, practical exercises and the number of actors. The protocol enables us to use alternative and practical solutions to make our security training safe, practical and of the same quality as pre-corona courses.

By offering training courses in an adapted form, participants are able to join a course. This allows them to travel abroad when the travel restrictions are lifted.

We would like to explain which adjustments we made to our training courses and training center.

Guidelines from the Dutch Government

Our protocol is based on the measures and regulations of the RIVM (National Institute for Public Health and the Environment). This protocol will be adjusted to new developments and regulations.

Measures to maintain a safe learning environment

CSD has developed alternative training forms that meet all government COVID-19 regulations.

Specific focus on COVID-19 safety measures:

- The course starts with health questions and a health & safety instruction.
- Participants and trainers maintain 1,5-meter distance at all times.
- On top of the 1,5-meter distance, actors and participants wear a plastic face shield for extra protection during exercises.
- Hand sanitation products, face masks and gloves will be available.
- Regular cleaning of training materials.
- Participants will be asked to sanitise hands on regular basis.
- Participants wear gloves during specific parts of the course.
- Materials are sanitised after usage.
- Every participant has a personal course package. This package contains course materials for all modules.

Intake pre-course

Three days before the start of the training participants will receive a reminder for the training and a short health checklist.

Traveling to our training location

If possible, participants should travel to the course using their own means of transportation and are requested to avoid using Public Transportation (OV) as much as possible. When using own means of transportation, participants should not travel together to the venue.

Training centre

Classrooms, routing, meals and other facilities are setup to accommodate social distancing and hygiene regulations.

- Venue will be executing extra cleaning moments.
- There will be a clear routing on the floor for the different groups.
- Meals will be provided separate from other groups.
- Participants will stay in a personal 1-person hotel-room. They will have their own bathroom with toilet and shower.

Exercises and simulations

- We have developed a detailed COVID-19 instructor manual for all modules and simulations.
- We will utilise more medical dummies, larger training and simulation rooms, more outdoor sessions and no vehicles.
